

Yoga Instructor Positions Available

Movement Climbing + Fitness, located in the heart of Boulder, CO is interested in hiring several yoga instructors for a variety of class offerings.

This individual will be part of a passionate team of community-oriented fitness enthusiasts that work in an environmentally-conscious, state-of-the-art facility. All members of the staff are experts in their respective fields, work well with a team and are committed to making Movement Climbing + Fitness the leader in its industry.

Brief Description of Yoga Instructor Position

The primary responsibility of each yoga instructor will be to teach classes that are comprised of individuals with varying skill levels. Every instructor will work symbiotically with other yoga instructors and the Yoga Director to help build a robust yoga program for the facility.

General Responsibilities and Duties

The yoga instructor will work on a part-time basis and will help develop programs, instruct, track class participation and interest, and meet goals set for the yoga program.

Specific Time Commitments

The position of a yoga instructor is part-time and people filling this role can expect to teach a minimum of 1 to 2 classes per week with potential to teach more. The time worked is comprised of planning and administrative time and actual instruction. Should an individual be interested in and qualified for other positions within the facility as well, s/he is more than welcome to also work additional hours in those areas.

Compensation Package

The stated pay scale range for this position is competitive, and the specific compensation package will be commensurate with the experience of the hired individual.

Qualifications

To perform this job successfully, an individual must be able to perform each essential duty promptly and competently. Ideally, a candidate would have past experience as a yoga instructor. All instructors must have some form of yoga teacher certification. Experience as an instructor of a variety of classes and styles is a plus.

Attributes of a successful candidate will include excellent customer service capabilities, ability to accommodate different skill levels in one class, uncompromised integrity and strong ethics, articulate and effective communication skills on all levels, dependability, responsibility, and accountability. The candidate should also reside in or near Boulder, CO.